

The weapons of the female

Soumadeep Ghosh

Kolkata, India

Abstract

In this paper, I describe the weapons of the female.
The paper ends with "The End"

Introduction

Many individuals, including many males, think that the females are weak. But this is far from the truth. The females too have weapons that are effective and lethal in combat. In this paper, I describe the weapons of the female in increasing order of lethality.

The weapons of the feminine

1. The weakness of her gender

The weakness of the feminine gender is, in fact, a weapon using which a female can entice inexperienced males and also alienate an individual male.

2. The frailty of her clothing

The frailty of the clothing of a female is, in fact, a weapon for use against a powerful male or even a masculine society.

3. The sharpness of her hidden blade

The sharpness of the hidden blade of a female is, in fact, a weapon for use against a powerful male who she doesn't want to be around.

4. The potency of her poison

The potency of the poison of a female is, in fact, a weapon for use against a powerful male who she doesn't want to be around.

5. The call of her distress

The call of distress of a female is, in fact, a weapon for use against a powerful male or a masculine society who/which she wants to change.

6. The withholding of her sex

The withholding of sex by a female is, in fact, a weapon for use against a powerful male or a masculine society who/which she wants to change.

7. Rape by a female

Rape by a female is, in fact, a weapon for use against a powerful male or a masculine society who/which she wants to change.

8. The abortion of her child

The abortion of her child by a female is, in fact, a weapon for use against a powerful male or a masculine society who/which she wants to change.

9. The death of a female

The death of a female is, in fact, the ultimate weapon of the females for use against a powerful male or a masculine society who/which she/they want to change.

The End